Barings International Umbrella Fund

Introduction

Barings International Umbrella Fund (the “Unit Trust”) is a unit trust managed by Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited (the “Manager”). The Unit Trust was established pursuant to the Unit Trusts Act, 1990, and a Trust Deed dated 11 February 1992 (as supplemented or amended from time to time) (the “Trust Deed”) made between the Manager and Northern Trust Fiduciary Services (Ireland) Limited (the “Depositary”) and authorised by the Central Bank of Ireland (the “CBI”), pursuant to the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (as amended) (the “UCITS Regulations”). The Unit Trust is also listed on the Euronext Dublin Global Exchange Market.

The Unit Trust is organised in the form of an umbrella fund. The Trust Deed provides that the Unit Trust may offer separate series of units, each representing an interest in a Unit Trust Fund (a “Fund”) comprised of a distinct portfolio of investments. A separate Fund is maintained for each series of units and is invested in accordance with the investment objective applicable to such Fund to date. Each Fund may create more than one class of units in relation to a Fund (a “class”) and these separate classes of units may be denominated in different currencies. A unit represents a beneficial interest in a Fund (a “unit”).

The Unit Trust has eleven active Funds as at 31 October 2025 which have been approved by the CBI:

Barings International Umbrella Fund

Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund

The investment objective of the Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund (the “Fund”) is to achieve long-term capital growth by investing in equities listed or traded in markets globally.

The Fund is actively managed and seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing at least 70% of its Net Asset Value directly and indirectly in equities and equity-related securities of issuers which are constituents of the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) (the “Index”). The Fund seeks to over perform the Index. The Index captured large and mid-cap representation and as at the date of this Supplement captures approximately 85% of global investable equities. The Index is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed and emerging markets. The Fund’s exposure to emerging markets may exceed 20% of Net Asset Value. Investors should note that the Fund does not intend to track the Index.

In order to implement the investment policy the Fund may gain indirect exposure through equity-related securities, such as American depositary receipts and global depositary receipts. Investment may also be made in cash and ancillary liquidities such as deposits, treasury bills or short-term Money Market Instruments, including commercial paper and certificates of deposit, in normal market conditions. The Fund may also invest up to 10% of its Net Asset Value in collective investment schemes including money market funds.

Barings Eastern Europe Fund

The Barings Eastern Europe Fund (the “Fund”) merged from Barings Global Umbrella Fund in to the Unit Trust on 21 July 2023. Barings Eastern Europe Fund was suspended on 1 March 2022 in light of the exceptional and adverse market conditions relating to the current situation in Russia and Ukraine, and exposure to Russian equities and depositary receipt securities. The merger saw the non-impacted liquid assets of Barings Eastern Europe Fund transferred to the new fund of the Unit Trust.

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve long-term capital appreciation through investment in a diversified portfolio of securities of issuers located in or with a significant exposure to the emerging markets of Europe.

The Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by investing at least 70% of its total assets at any one time in equities and equity-related securities, such as convertible bonds and warrants (which may only be acquired passively through corporate actions and are not expected to exceed 5% of the Fund’s Net Asset Value), of companies incorporated in, or exercising the predominant part of their economic activity in, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Moldova, Russia, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, Ukraine and Uzbekistan (the “Commonwealth of Independent States”), and in other emerging European countries such as Albania, Bulgaria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Georgia, Greece, Hungary, Kosovo, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Montenegro, Poland, Romania, Serbia, Slovenia, Slovakia and Turkey, or quoted or traded on the stock exchanges in those countries. There is no limit to the extent of direct investment in Russia and any such securities which are listed or traded in Russia must be listed or traded on the Moscow Exchange. Investment may also be made in securities listed or traded on recognised exchanges or markets in other countries where the issuer is located in or has a significant exposure to emerging European countries and in fixed and floating debt instruments issued by government and corporate issuers, such as bonds.

Please refer to the Prospectus for the full investment objective and policy for all the Funds.

How the Funds are managed

The Manager of Barings ASEAN Frontiers Fund, Barings Asia Growth Fund, Barings Australia Fund and Barings Hong Kong China Fund has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of the Funds. In turn, Baring Asset Management Limited has appointed Baring Asset Management (Asia) Limited and Barings LLC as Sub-Investment Managers to the Funds.

At Barings, our equity investment teams share the philosophy of quality Growth at a Reasonable Price (“GARP”). We believe that earnings growth is the principal driver of equity market performance over the medium to long term, and favour high quality issuers for their ability to over perform the market on a risk-adjusted basis. In particular, we believe that structured fundamental research and a disciplined investment process combining quality growth and upside disciplines can allow us to identify attractively priced, long-term growth issuers which will over perform the market. Our approach emphasises quality criteria when looking at issuers and a three- to five-year time horizon when forecasting issuer earnings. In determining upside, we use consistent and transparent methods to place emphasis on discounted earnings models.

The Manager of Barings Europa Fund has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of the Fund.

The Fund is invested in European equity markets (including the United Kingdom), using a “bottom-up” investment approach. This means that we focus more on the individual merits of a specific issuer, rather than taking a stance on a sector of the market or macroeconomic trends such as interest rate rises. Within this, Barings manages the Fund using a GARP approach. This means that when researching candidates for the portfolio, we place just as much emphasis on the likely growth in corporate earnings at an issuer as we do on the unit price valuation before deciding whether to invest or not. We believe this approach combines the best features of both “growth” and “value” investment styles, to the benefit of investors. We invest in issuers which we believe offer potential for delivering better than expected earnings growth. We do this by carefully researching an issuer’s corporate strategy and revenue sources. An important part of the investment process involves regular meetings with the management of issuers in which we are considering investment. We then work to put a price on the units of the issuer in the light of our assessment of its earnings prospects and compare this to its peers in the sector and globally. When we are satisfied that an issuer meets our criteria for investing, we purchase an appropriate number of units.

The Manager of Barings Global Bond Fund has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of the Fund. Barings LLC and Barings Japan Limited were appointed as Sub-Investment Managers of the Fund.

Baring Asset Management Limited seeks investment returns by investing in bond markets where we believe yields are likely to fall and avoiding those we think are expensive. The overall duration, or interest rate sensitivity, of the Fund will fluctuate as our expectations for economic developments change, relative to the market. We will also look to add value through foreign exchange management, identifying those markets where currencies are attractive, for example due to sound economic fundamentals or rising interest rates.

The Manager of Barings Global Balanced Fund has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of the Fund.

Baring Asset Management Limited takes a balanced approach to investing and invests across a wide spectrum of global equities, bonds, and applies a tactical asset allocation strategy by identifying opportunities that it believes are attractive (based upon market valuation measures such as price/earnings ratio, price/book ratio, dividend yield, and earnings) and markets that have diverged from their view of economic reality (e.g. the valuation of the securities are not reflecting the intrinsic value), while carefully managing the extent of the risk exposure of the Fund. We will seek to manage the Fund’s risk exposure by allocating asset classes between equities and bonds and by the diversification of its portfolio. A balanced investment strategy is a way of combining investments in a portfolio that aims to balance risk and return.

Baring Asset Management Limited’s investment process combines a long term (up to 10 years) asset return forecasting framework with a shorter term (typically 12-18 months) approach for tactical asset allocation.

The Manager of Barings Europe Select Fund and Barings German Growth Fund has also appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of the Funds.

At Barings, our equity investment teams share the philosophy of quality GARP. We believe that earnings growth is the principal driver of equity market performance over the medium to long term, and favour high-quality issuers for their ability to over perform the market on a risk-adjusted basis. In particular, we believe that structured fundamental research and a disciplined investment process combining quality, growth and upside disciplines can allow us to identify attractively priced, longterm growth issuers which will over perform the market. Our approach emphasises quality criteria when looking at issuers and a three-to five-year time horizon when forecasting issuer earnings. In determining upside, we use consistent and transparent methods to place emphasis on discounted earnings models.

The Manager of Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of the Fund.

The Investment Manager adopts a top-down approach to investing in this Fund. For Global equities, this means that the Investment Manager dynamically allocates to countries, sectors, currencies and styles. This approach incorporates the Investment Manager’s views on macroeconomic trends such as economic growth and interest rate levels. The investment strategy is implemented using passive stock selection via a portfolio which consists of directly held equities that are constituents of the reference index. This portfolio will normally hold between 400 and 500 stocks.

The Manager of Barings Eastern Europe Fund has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager.

The Fund is managed using a well-defined quality Growth at a Reasonable Price ("GARP") investment style which aims to identify strong businesses with good expansion potential and attractive valuations. The Investment Manager draws on the research conducted by Barings' centralised global equity platform to construct a high conviction, concentrated portfolio.

GARP seeks to identify reasonably priced growth issuers whose qualities are unrecognised by market participants by performing structured fundamental analysis with a disciplined investment process. Based on the region, country or sector bias of the Fund, analysis of potential growth issuers' includes their future financial performance as well as their business model and management style, while focusing on long-term earnings growth of three to five years.

Please refer to the Prospectus for the full risk profile of each of the Funds. Investors should read the Prospectus and carefully consider the potential risk factors as well as reward factors before investing.

Investment Managers' Report

For the financial period ended 31 October 2025

Barings ASEAN Frontiers Fund

Performance

Barings ASEAN Frontiers Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 15.79% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and outperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 12.16%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 14.81% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

ASEAN equities posted solid gains over the past 6 months, supported by resilient domestic demand, accommodative monetary policies, and improved liquidity amid a softer US dollar. Singapore led regional performance, benefiting from its safe-haven status and robust corporate earnings. Thailand advanced on government stimulus, while Malaysia and Indonesia were buoyed by policy easing and infrastructure spending. In contrast, the Philippines lagged due to political uncertainty.

Stock selection within Industrials was a key driver of the Fund's outperformance, particularly in the Philippines, Singapore, and Malaysia. The Fund's higher exposure to Information Technology relative to the performance comparator also added value, driven by global artificial intelligence (AI) and semiconductor demand. Conversely, stock selection in Health Care detracted from returns, while a higher allocation relative to the performance comparator in Consumer Discretionary weighed on performance amid softer consumption amid macro uncertainties.

At the company level, Fabrinet, a leading provider of advanced optical packaging services with core operations in Thailand, was a standout contributor. Its share price rallied on record earnings and sustained demand for optical and AI-related manufacturing solutions. Delta Electronics, a Taiwanese power supply manufacturer, also added positively, supported by rising demand for AI server power solutions. Conversely, the Fund's lack of exposure to Delta Electronics Thailand, a key subsidiary of Delta Electronics, detracted from relative performance as the stock surged on AI-driven optimism.

Market outlook

Year-to-date, ASEAN equities have underperformed relative to most equities markets, with momentum favouring North Asia amid China's re-rating and the continued AI infrastructure build-out benefiting Taiwan and Korea. However, as fundamental improvements across ASEAN laggards—particularly Indonesia and Thailand—gain traction over the next 12 months, the markets are likely to re-rate sharply given currently depressed valuations on both absolute and relative basis, with the less liquid nature of these markets amplifying the re-rating.

In Indonesia, the largest economy in ASEAN, early signs of recovery are emerging after a challenging start to the year marked by weak growth, tight liquidity, civil unrest, and a sudden change in Finance Minister. Liquidity conditions are improving, government spending is picking up, and the new Finance Minister is expected to adopt pro-growth measures while balancing macro stability. Bank Indonesia has pivoted to a more accommodative stance, supported by Fed easing and a weaker dollar. With dividend yields near 6%, investors are well-compensated to wait for earnings recovery.

Ahead of elections in early 2026, Thailand looks set for a near-term consumption boost as the interim government attempts to bolster its popularity. A dovish central bank stance, combined with low inflation and a strong baht, provides room for monetary easing to stimulate growth.

On the other hand, corruption scandals in the Philippines may slow government spending and near-term growth, though valuations remain attractive, while we are able to identify stocks less impacted by these domestic headwinds.

Finally, we expect interest in Singapore market to remain notwithstanding less compelling valuations after 2 years of strong performance. Although compressed, dividend yields for the market remain attractive for income seekers given lack of alternatives as local interest rates have collapsed. Continued follow through on the Equity Market Development Program ("EQDP") to create demand as well as improve corporate governance and market attractiveness should keep the Singapore market elevated.

The outlook for the ASEAN region over the next 12 months is constructive given the depressed valuations, improving earnings outlook and light investor positioning. Patience is required, but likely to be rewarded.

Barings Asia Growth Fund

Performance

Barings Asia Growth Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 33.89% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and outperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 29.21%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 32.75% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

Asian equities delivered strong gains over the past 6 months, supported by broadly accommodative monetary policies, improving liquidity amid a weaker US dollar, and structural growth themes. Technology-led markets such as Korea, Taiwan, and China were standout performers, driven by robust demand for semiconductors and artificial intelligence (AI) infrastructure, while India and select ASEAN countries lagged regional peers due to limited technology exposure, earnings constraints and trade policy uncertainty.

Over the review period, stock selection in Information Technology was a key driver of the Fund's outperformance, particularly from select companies in Taiwan, Korea, and China that benefited from surging AI and semiconductors demand. Stock selection in Communication Services also contributed positively. Conversely, the Fund's higher allocation to Financials relative to the performance comparator detracted from returns, with select Indian holdings impacted by weak earnings and margin pressure. Stock selection within Industrials further weighed on relative performance.

At the company level, Delta Electronics, a leading Taiwanese provider of power supply solutions, was a notable contributor. Its share price rallied on record earnings, supported by strong demand for server power systems and liquid cooling technologies for AI data centers, as well as strategic expansion into electric vehicle market—positioning it as one of Asia's standout tech-industrial plays during the period. On the downside, the Fund's lower exposure to Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. ("TSMC") relative to the performance comparator detracted from relative returns. TSMC's share price surged on robust earnings and its critical role in global semiconductor supply chain; however, the Fund's single-stock 10% cap constrained exposure, resulting in relative underperformance.

Externally, reduced geopolitical risks from positive Presidents Xi-Trump meeting - a truce for a year between the 2 largest economies and avoiding potentially another massive supply chain disruption across numerous industries. From market perspective, this should help reduce equity risk premium and sustain the valuation re-rating markets currently are enjoying so far. Despite reduced probability of another Federal Reserve rate cut in December, the rate cutting cycle remains intact going into next year. Looser monetary conditions are positive for equities, and weaker US dollar have a positive impact on Asian markets.

China's market momentum appears sustainable, underpinned by reasonable valuations and a large pool of household savings into local equities. Supportive policies—such as "anti-involution" measures and AI/Semiconductor localization—are fostering innovation and market resilience. Achievements in biotech global out-licensing and cultural exports (i.e., pop toys) are invigorating investor sentiment. We maintain exposure to sectors benefiting from policy support and innovation, such as Technology, Biotech, and Consumer Discretionary.

India's underperformance year-to-date has compressed its valuation premium to more attractive levels. Domestic macro conditions are improving, aided by monetary easing and government measures to boost consumption through tax cuts and GST reform. Loan growth is stabilizing, and while US tariffs remain elevated, their impact on listed companies is limited given India's domestic orientation. We see selective opportunities in sectors benefiting from consumption growth and policy reforms.

AI continues to be the key driver for market performance in Taiwan and Korea, given the significant weighting of tech giants. While there are debates about a potential AI overbuild bubble, near-term demand for Asian AI hardware remains robust, with earnings upgrades expected to keep these markets elevated. Korea's growth story extends beyond Technology, with several sectors experiencing secular revival.

Patience is warranted for ASEAN markets, particularly laggards such as Indonesia and Thailand. Performance

Barings Australia Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 10.04% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 10.34%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 9.12% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

The largest positive contributor to relative performance was Sandfire Resources, a small-cap mining company which has benefited from the rising copper price. We believe copper pricing should remain well supported over the long-term given growing demand in use cases such as electrification (data centers, electric cars) compared to relatively constrained new supply. Life360, a family safety and location tracking app, also performed well as it continued to build its global userbase (>80m users), expand into adjacent verticals like pet tracking, and roll-out its differentiated advertising offer. SEEK Limited, the market leading recruitment platform in Australia and parts of Asia, was also strong following positive earnings updates and improving job advert volume trends.

Wisetech, a global leading operating system for global logistics and trade, detracted from performance given a delay to the release of their new Container Transport Optimization ("CTO") product which pushed back growth expectations into 2026. This was followed by corporate governance concerns linked to share dealing by the founder/Chairman which was disappointing. However, the company also announced very positive progress with its new Agentic AI product innovations which we believe can deliver substantial value-add to their customers as it rolls out next year and could potentially accelerate market share gains and growth over the mid to long-term. Treasury Wine Estates also underperformed, reflecting continued pressure on wine consumption in their end-markets. We exited the position as we saw signs of a Chinese government crack-down on alcohol consumption which fundamentally altered the investment case.

The Australian market outlook is positive. We expect consumer spending to strengthen with further interest rate cuts given a high skew to floating rate mortgages, although the exact timing of cuts remains uncertain given the risk of sticky inflation and a tight labour market. Australia can also benefit relative to other advanced economies such as the US and in Europe from its low level of government debt, which minimises the risk of higher taxation seen elsewhere.

We note there are some parts of the Australian market where valuations do look stretched and over-crowded. This includes certain Financials which now make up a large part of the Index. However, we do still see very attractive valuations more broadly. For example, within Healthcare, Cochlear shares are trading at a discount to the historical range on fears over near-term softness in US demand and generally weak sentiment across the Healthcare sector. However, the company continues to have incredibly strong fundamentals in both quality (market leader, R&D focus, high margin/returns) and significant potential for strong growth (given a generational tech upgrade releasing this year and underpenetrated end-markets) which makes its valuation increasingly attractive.

Barings Europa Fund

Performance

Barings Europa Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 5.83% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and underperformed the performance comparator with a return of 11.39%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 4.93% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

The European market performed strongly over the six months, with the MSCI Europe index ending the period close to the new all-time high it reached towards the end of October. The period was notable for the strong market rebound from the April lows, as the tariff levels set by President Trump earlier that month on his "Liberation Day", which had pushed the market lower, were in time either reduced or delayed. The market consolidated these gains through the summer before rising strongly in September in particular. This time, the driver was the plethora of AI investments announced by some of the world's biggest companies, which reignited expectations the technology could deliver high returns for many of the related parties following concerns earlier in the year that DeepSeek, a Chinese AI product, would take market share from western companies.

Whilst the Fund generated a positive return over the period, it fell short of the return generated by the performance comparator, due primarily to security selection, mainly from within the Consumer Discretionary and Industrials sectors. In Consumer Discretionary, the performance of B&M European Values proved particularly disappointing, as the UK-based discount retailer's earnings fell short of expectations, and the CEO was replaced. Ferrari also performed poorly as the luxury car manufacturer's 2030 growth targets fell short of investor expectations. In the Industrials sector, business services group Wolters Kluwer came under pressure from the market's view that customers would switch to freely available AI products, even whilst the group continued to report strong results indicating this was not the case. More positive were the share price performances of ASML, which performed strongly due to its positioning within the AI supply chain, and financials stocks KBC, a Belgian bank, and Prudential, the UK insurance company which now conducts the bulk of its business in the strongly growing Asian markets.

Market outlook

Geopolitics is perhaps a more prominent factor in equity market performance than it has ever been. Whether this is US President Trump and his use, and threat, of tariffs; Russian President Putin's continued aggression in Ukraine and, increasingly, other parts of eastern Europe; and closer to home, the ongoing instability of the French government. With such a backdrop, we believe investing in companies with quality attributes and strong growth credentials will prove to be a successful strategy, even if this has not been the case over the recent past. The agreement between the EU and the US on tariffs should hopefully enable companies in Europe which export to the US to plan their strategies with more certainty, whilst for companies with a more domestic bias, and not just those headquartered in Germany, we would expect to see concrete signs of Chancellor Merz's €500bn infrastructure spending programme in the coming months, and more significantly in the ensuing years through to the end of the decade. In addition, there is the multi-billion defence spending initiative, instigated by Ursula von der Leyen, President of the European Commission, which similarly puts the onus on European countries to invest for themselves, which we believe will prove beneficial to many of the stronger and well positioned European companies which the Fund seeks to invest in.

Barings Hong Kong China Fund

Performance

Barings Hong Kong China Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 21.61% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 22.17%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 20.58% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

Chinese equities sustained strong upward momentum over the 6-month period, underpinned by accommodative government policies, ample liquidity, and strong sectoral performance related to artificial intelligence (AI) and technology themes. Progress in US–China trade negotiations helped alleviate export-related concerns, reinforcing investor confidence. Additionally, a surge in initial public offering ("IPO") activity in Hong Kong, coupled with robust Southbound capital flows, further bolstered market sentiment.

Over the review period, stock selection within Industrials and Materials was a notable contributor to the Fund, driven by exposure to AI-linked opportunities, the government's "anti-involution" campaign, and favourable commodity price trends. Conversely, stock selection within Consumer Staples and Consumer Discretionary detracted from relative performance, as domestic consumption remained subdued.

At the company level, Aluminum Corporation of China stood out as a key contributor to the Fund, with its share price reaching multi-year highs on the back of robust earnings and supportive policy measures. Investor confidence was reinforced by its leading industry position and upside potential from rising aluminum prices. In contrast, premium tea brand Chagee weighed on the Fund's relative returns over the review period, as its share price continued to consolidate following its April IPO amid profit-taking, weaker-than-expected financial results, and investor concerns over near-term sales softness due to seasonal factors and heightened competition.

Geopolitical tensions eased after Presidents Trump and Xi secured a one-year truce at the APEC summit, addressing tariffs, export controls, port fees, alongside renewed talks on fentanyl and agricultural purchases. These steps provide near-term relief to global supply chains and investor sentiment, though markets reacted cautiously, recognizing that core issues around technology and strategic competition remain unresolved. We view the recent consolidation in Chinese equities as a healthy adjustment, creating attractive entry points in sectors aligned with structural growth themes such as AI infrastructure, electric vehicle ("EV") supply chains, and domestic consumption. While the agreement reduces immediate uncertainty, it is time-limited, and further negotiations will be critical to sustaining optimism into 2026.

Domestically, we expect scope for additional monetary easing and targeted fiscal support as deflationary pressures persist and near-term macro data remains mixed. Recent government efforts to curb "involution"—excessive and irrational competition—are reshaping industry dynamics, accelerating the exit of outdated capacity and supporting more sustainable growth.

Chinese equity markets continue to benefit from positive IPO momentum. Hong Kong maintained its global leadership in IPO fundraising, driven by several mega listings and supportive reforms, while A-share markets saw steady issuance in technology and new energy sectors. These developments underpin resilient capital inflows and strong investor engagement.

Barings Global Bond Fund

Performance

Barings Global Bond Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 4.42% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and outperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 1.08%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 3.79% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

Global markets continued recovering from the post-Liberation day sell-off. Developed bond markets continued to trade in range.

The US Federal Reserve Bank left interest rates unchanged in June and July citing uncertainties around tariff-induced inflation risks. It then delivered back-to-back 0.25% cuts in September and October, partly on concerns of labour markets weakening, and on added confidence that tariff-related inflation is concentrated in the goods channel. The government was in shutdown, the 7th such in the last two decades, and markets took it in the stride. Most economic data releases were suspended. It is therefore difficult to assess direction of the overall economy. That said, markets still expect the Federal Reserve to cut policy rates to 3%, from the current level of 4%. That expectation is mostly off softening labour markets and has helped anchor US Treasury bonds. The Dollar weakened through Q2 on de-dollarisation fears and stabilized in Q3. G-10 FX markets benefited alongside emerging market assets (currencies, bonds and equities). While net USD positioning has remained short, we now expect a modest rebound, not least due to a still resilient US growth backdrop.

The ECB delivered a 0.25% rate cut in line with expectations but signaled that it was also the last in the cycle. It has since left rates unchanged over the last three policy meetings, with no change in forward guidance. Sweden's Riksbank has followed the ECB, including on delivering the last cut in June. France's political turmoil continued, and two cabinets fell on disagreements on how to deliver much needed fiscal consolidation. French government bond spreads widened, and now pricing at Italy's levels. However, investors seem to bank on the size, diversity and resilience of the French economy, hence domestic markets have stabilized across government bonds, equities and credit.

The Bank of England has continued its cautious easing stance, delivering 0.25% per quarter (one in May and one in August). It is mostly concerned about sticky services inflation but also keeping an eye on loosening labour markets. The government Budget was delayed to November 2026 for unspecified reasons, and the Chancellor is under pressure to deliver measures that demonstrate a sustainable fiscal trajectory. This has been a source of market volatility.

Japanese bond markets continued to sell-off, both on resilient inflation and fiscal sustainability concerns. It is the biggest underperformer in G-10, in local currency terms. The government fell, but the Liberal Democratic Party retained power in the preceding elections, but with a new PM (Ms. Takeichi) and new junior coalition partners. The Japanese Yen has remained weak on concerns that Ms. Takeichi will continue with fiscal loosening while the Bank of Japan is not tightening policy to any significance.

The smaller economies of Canada and New Zealand were harder hit by tariffs, and for NZ, also through the China demand channel. Bank of Canada resumed rate cuts in September and October, at 0.25% each, after a six months wait. The Reserve Bank of New Zealand delivered two back-to-back quarterly 0.25% cuts in May and August in response to a sharp cyclical deceleration and softening labour markets and inflation. More easing is expected. The Reserve Bank of Australia and Norges Bank have eased policy only slowly in response to still resilient economies and firm inflation.

The key market themes driving portfolio strategy are as follows:

- a) Global: Growth remains well-supported by fiscal spending. Recessions are extremely unlikely given that both public and private credit growth remain strong. Global real GDP growth is likely to remain around 3%, with EMs marginally outperforming. In such a backdrop, duration often doesn't perform.
- b) US exceptionalism has faded: But US is likely to outpace other DM economies despite disruptions in labour supply. AI-related investments and Bidenomics are still supporting demand. Europe's outlook is extremely challenged from US tariffs and competition from China. Germany's fiscal stimulus is likely to be deployed slower than market expectations, hence we believe the ECB will eventually be forced to deliver one or two more 0.25% rate cuts.
- c) Fiscal concerns run high: Most major DM governments are struggling to contain spending. UK, US, Japan and France are at the epicentre. This is impacting performance in global duration and fomenting steeper interest rate curves.
- d) Inflation has eased but showing stickiness: Hence central banks will continue to ease, but conservatively.
- e) Global policy uncertainty remains high: US policy making is still erratic, and a source of market volatility. However, the thawing of tensions with China and Euro-area is beneficial to global growth.

Given the above, the Managers have:

- a) Shortened portfolio duration to performance comparator levels. This has been primarily through reducing US, Euro-area and Japan long maturity bond exposures.
- b) Focused on increasing exposure to high coupon bonds. This has boosted the Fund's income profile vs performance comparator.
- c) Adopted a more active hedge management. Historically, the Fund's performance has been dragged down by FX hedge underperformance. The Managers have adopted a much more active approach to limit losses and capture gains whenever possible. This has been accretive to returns.

Market outlook

In the last IM update, the Managers had a preference for long duration. That stance was changed in the intervening period to focus on income.

The US economy eventually slowed in line with our expectations. However, we still expect it to outperform DM peers hence our stance on the USD (constructive) and duration (negative). The Euro-area outlook is the opposite; growth and inflation are likely to cool, which should be constructive for European Government Bonds. However, this also requires the ECB to turn dovish, and we do not believe that turning point is yet in sight.

Contrary to our expectations, US fiscal policy will likely stay expansive through 2025 and 2026. The deficit is likely to remain around 6% and there are no signs of overtures towards fiscal consolidation from either Republicans or Democrats. While a full-blown fiscal crisis remains unlikely, long maturity bonds are likely to underperform over the medium term as investors demand higher term premium.

Global inflation is still falling, albeit with selected hotspots across DM and EM, and for idiosyncratic reasons. Our expectations have played out. However, fiscal profligacy in major economies is making it harder for bond investors to benefit from the disinflation.

We had always argued against persistent global economic decoupling. That has played out, with US exceptionalism fading, albeit for unexpected reasons. We expect the new norm to be one of narrower growth and inflation differentials; and

This IM update wouldn't be complete without a line on AI and lofty Technology valuations. Fortunately, we are not experts in that field and have very little to say. But this is a potential trouble spot for the global economy. If you can call it a bubble, and if it were to burst, central banks would be the first to mop up the mess with deep rate cuts. Either that, or risk credit markets seizing up through various unforeseen contagion channels. Therefore, we still strongly believe that certain government bonds (US, Germany) and currencies (JPY, EUR and CHF) can hedge portfolios in that outcome.

Managers continued to reduce risk (duration) and focusing on increasing allocations to high coupon bonds.

The Fund is market weight Europe (via periphery), and OW UK, Australia, New Zealand, and Canada (including provincials). It remains under-weight in US Treasuries, for the reasons discussed above. On currencies, the Fund is now long MXN, AUD and BRL vs underweights in EUR and other Asian currencies (JPY, KRW and SGD). This view exploits stretched valuations (EUR is expensive on these crosses). Note that the benchmark is 75% DM and 25% EM.

Barings Global Balanced Fund

Performance

Barings Global Balanced Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 17.55% on the Class A USD Inc unit class and outperformed the performance comparator that delivered a return of 14.83%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 16.69% on the Class A USD Inc unit class over the same period.

Global markets delivered robust gains during the reporting period, supported by resilient economic growth and easing trade tensions. These factors have generally fostered a more constructive backdrop for risk assets. Notably, strong AI-related capital expenditures continued to drive earnings growth, particularly within the Technology sector. Asian equities also posted solid performance, buoyed by progress in trade negotiations and China's policy initiatives, including support for domestic chipmakers and the 'anti-involution' measures. Fixed income markets advanced as expectations for a Federal Reserve rate cut strengthened and credit spreads tightened against a resilient macroeconomic backdrop.

Given the resilient economic backdrop and the structural tailwind from AI investments, our constructive stance on risk has paid off. Equity positions contributed positively to Fund performance during the period, with Technology exposure across the US and Asia benefiting from strong earnings. Meanwhile, stabilizing inflation and signs of a softening US labour market should give the Federal Reserve room to move rates closer to neutral. Accordingly, we added US dollar duration exposure, which was supported by rising market expectations of monetary easing during the reporting period.

Market outlook

While the medium-term macroeconomic backdrop remains supportive, we perceive a less favourable risk asymmetry in the near term. The market rally year-to-date and richer valuations are leaving limited margin for error and heightening vulnerability to adverse surprises—such as weaker economic data or increased policy uncertainty. Accordingly, we are trimming risk at the margin to preserve flexibility and re-engage at more attractive entry points. Where risk assets are maintained, we favour resilient segments characterized by robust earnings potential and structural growth drivers. Concurrently, we are extending portfolio duration as a diversifier, which we believe retains its safe-haven attributes during periods of market retracement.

Barings Europe Select Fund

Performance

Barings Europe Select Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 5.43% on the Class J EUR Inc unit class and underperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 10.21%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 5.01% on the Class J EUR Inc unit class.

Through the period asset allocation by country and sector had little impact on relative performance, however, stock selection detracted. European smaller companies performed strongly over the period under review, despite political upheaval in France and weak economic growth across Europe. In this context, the Fund's return reflects profit-taking that impacted some of the companies which had previously performed strongly, and the portfolio's limited exposure to Italian banks, German industrials and Scandinavian energy companies, which performed very strongly. Higher quality companies with strong long-term track records, to which the Fund is exposed, tended to underperform companies with weaker balance sheets and profitability, which benefited from hopes that takeovers and government spending might drive up their shares.

Shares of CTS Eventim, the German ticketing and events group, and DiaSorin, the Italian diagnostic testing healthcare group, fell back. More positively, shares in Metso, the Finnish mining equipment group, and EFG International, the Swiss private banking group, performed strongly.

European smaller company indices have risen further; however, significant macroeconomic and geopolitical uncertainties persist. Business and consumer confidence surveys reflect anaemic economic growth, amid uncertainties on tariffs and exports, Ukraine, domestic policies and voters' dissatisfactions. Nevertheless, European growth is forecast to accelerate in 2026. Germany's infrastructure and defence spending packages may begin to affect corporate investment and hiring plans, while global tariffs upheaval should increasingly be digested and planned for.

Confidence in 2026 profits growth is likely to define equity market direction. Equity markets are likely to remain volatile: geopolitical challenges abound and investor flows into European smaller companies remain correspondingly volatile. With inflation rates stabilising around the top-end of central bankers' target ranges scope for further rate cuts, outside America, is limited. Nevertheless, global business confidence surveys imply economic expansion (although similar surveys in Europe remain more cautious), supporting hopes for international trade growth in 2026.

European smaller companies' valuations remain attractive, relative to history and relative to larger companies. Unlike the outperformance of Growth companies in American equity markets, in Europe Value style equities have outperformed all year reflecting strong performances by Materials, Financials and Defence companies: supported respectively by metals prices' inflation, banking sector mergers, and rising defence spend. European companies' profits in 2025 will be influenced by cautious consumer spending while the stronger Euro will affect European exporters' earnings.

In summary geopolitical developments will continue to impact European smaller companies. Economic growth and global trade are forecast to accelerate in 2026, supported by AI and datacentre sector investment, government infrastructure spending and recovering construction spending. Supported by attractive valuations M&A and restructuring among smaller companies continues to accelerate. In this context identification of bottom-up stock selection opportunities is likely to become increasingly important with earnings revisions increasingly defining share price performance.

Barings German Growth Fund

Performance

Barings German Growth Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 5.03% on the Class J EUR Acc unit class and outperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 3.31%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 4.60% on the Class J EUR Acc unit class over the same period.

The German equity market generated further gains over the six months, though the market reached its peak in the period during July, following a very strong rebound from the low point reached in the immediate aftermath of President Trump's "Liberation Day" tariffs, as the initial levels were either watered down, or implementation was pushed back. From thereon however, the market slipped back, as investors considered this new trading environment where tariffs would still inhibit global growth, and awaited firmer evidence of how and where the funds for the German infrastructure programme would be spent. At the market-capitalisation level, the large-cap and small-cap indices performing broadly in line with each other, whilst the mid-cap index, maybe surprisingly given where many beneficiaries of the German infrastructure spending programme sit, underperformed, whilst still generating positive returns.

The better performance of the Fund when compared to the performance comparator was driven in part by Aerospace & Defence stocks, specifically Rheinmetall and Airbus, the former mainly as the war in Ukraine showed little sign of ending, despite the high profile meeting between Presidents Trump and Putin in Alaska in August, and the latter due to continued good delivery of its commercial aircraft. Kion was also a strong positive contributor, as the industrial group's results showed encouraging performances from both its industrial trucks and warehouse automation businesses. Having a relatively lower weight in SAP, the largest stock in the German market, also contributed to the Fund's relatively better performance than the performance comparator. Conversely, the share price performances of Symrise, Suess Microtec and Freenet proved disappointing, with weak end markets, order book uncertainty, and tougher competition, the respective reasons.

Market outlook

Geopolitics continues to be a key factor in the performance of equity markets across the world, including in Germany. Whilst US President Trump has been conciliatory at times with regard to the level of tariffs he will ultimately set on various products and industries, and for how long, uncertainty over his ongoing tactics makes it difficult, albeit not impossible, for companies to invest and plan. Given this global backdrop, we are of the view that Germany is in a relatively strong position, owing to its ability, both financially and politically, to focus internally on how it can improve the health of its economy, which is in contrast to many other countries and regions around the world. We believe this will prove very beneficial to German companies in two ways, particularly those which have strong domestic businesses, including those classified as mid- and small-cap stocks where the Fund already has good exposure. Firstly, through higher corporate earnings from this ramp-up in spending, and secondly, through higher demand for these stocks as global investors increasingly look to gain exposure to companies and countries that have relatively clear investment cases.

Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund

Performance

Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 23.90% on the Class I USD Acc unit class and outperformed against the performance comparator with a return of 21.58%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 23.42% on the Class I USD Acc unit class over the same period.

Relative performance was overwhelmingly driven by allocation decisions, with nearly 70% coming from sector bets and 30% from our regional positioning.

At the sector level, maintaining a higher exposure to information technology and reducing exposure to consumer staples and real estate stocks contributed positively, while an allocation to healthcare detracted.

In Regions, reducing exposure to Europe in favour of emerging markets was the main driver of relative returns, with Korean holdings delivering particularly strong contributions.

Market outlook

The global economy over the past six months has been marked by divergence. Uncertainty around global trade policy and weakness in the labour market has come alongside fundamental resilience with many companies delivering strong earnings and investing in future growth. We emphasise the resilience and hence remain constructive on global equity markets for the medium-term, focusing on areas of earnings strength while staying nimble to move portfolio positioning as market conditions evolve.

Companies at the forefront of artificial intelligence and technology have continued to thrive with strong earnings and robust investment plans. We continue to favour these areas in Japan, the US, and emerging markets. Technology companies in China and Korea are particularly appealing, reflecting ongoing innovation and attractive valuations. In contrast, goods-oriented companies have struggled, as ongoing uncertainty around tariff policies and weak consumer sentiment have challenged their profitability and made it difficult to raise prices or plan ahead. As a result, we continue to hold a lower allocation to consumer stocks.

We are mindful that some of these themes have already seen strong performance. In response, while maintaining overall portfolio strategy, we have recently taken some profit in certain strong performers and rotated capital from sectors where technology is disrupting established business models, such as communication services, into areas where we see value being overlooked. Healthcare is one where we believe recent policy driven selloffs have been overdone. We believe the underlying business prospects remain robust and have increased our allocation to the sector.

We continue to monitor these trends closely and remain focused on building resilient portfolios aligned with long-term growth themes, while maintaining a disciplined approach to risk.

Barings Eastern Europe Fund

Performance

Barings Eastern Europe Fund (the "Fund") generated a gross return of 20.99% on the Class I USD Acc unit class and outperformed (on a gross basis) against the performance comparator with a return of 20.41%* during the reporting period. The Fund generated a net return of 20.38% on the Class I USD Acc unit class over the same period.

During the six months to 31 October 2025, Emerging European equities experienced a period of both resilience and volatility. The Fund's performance reflected a diverse set of drivers across the region. Notably, the Greek banking sector was a focal point for investors following UniCredit's acquisition of a significant stake in Alpha Bank. This transaction, which saw UniCredit raise its holding to 26% with a stated intention to reach 30%, underscored the growing strategic interest in the region's financial sector and was well received by the market. The Fund benefited from its exposure to Alpha Bank, which was a key contributor to returns.

In Poland, the government's proposal to temporarily increase the banking sector tax to 30% from 2026, replacing an earlier plan to tax central bank reserves, created some uncertainty. While this move weighed on sentiment towards Polish banks in the short term, the Fund maintained a constructive view on the sector, given the country's robust macroeconomic backdrop and ongoing infrastructure investment. The Fund's diversified exposure to Polish financials helped to cushion the impact of these policy changes.

Elsewhere, the Fund realised gains from the sale of its holding in Doosan Škoda Power, a Czech gas turbine manufacturer. The position was exited after a strong rally, driven by heightened global interest in nuclear infrastructure and the stock reaching its valuation target. This sale exemplified the Fund's disciplined approach to managing positions that have achieved their investment objectives.

Market outlook

Looking ahead, capital markets activity continues to improve across Emerging European markets, adding to the region's equity market liquidity and highlighting its appeal as an investment destination. The substantial increases across Emerging European stock exchanges and a resurging IPO market underscore the region's ability to attract investor interest, even amid global uncertainty.

Poland remains a standout, with its strong economic fundamentals and growing role in European defence and infrastructure. While the proposed banking tax increase has introduced some near-term uncertainty, the underlying growth story remains intact, supported by EU-funded investment and a resilient consumer sector.

Turkey's economic and political resilience is once again being tested. While the policy direction under Finance Minister Şimşek and the independent central bank is encouraging, unlocking the market's potential will require patience. High real interest rates and ongoing political uncertainty are likely to keep Turkish assets volatile in the near term. The Fund will continue to approach Turkish investments with caution, maintaining a diversified portfolio to manage risk.

Greece's commitment to economic reform and high corporate governance standards remains impressive, as demonstrated by the proactive handling of deferred tax credits and the successful execution of share placements in the banking sector. The strategic interest from international investors, such as UniCredit's move on Alpha Bank, highlights the region's improving investment case.

Overall, the Fund remains focused on identifying high-quality companies with strong fundamentals and attractive valuations across the region. While global macroeconomic and geopolitical risks persist, the Investment Manager believes that Emerging Europe offers compelling opportunities for long-term capital growth, supported by improving market liquidity, ongoing reforms, and a commitment to sound economic management.

* The Fund return uses the midday prices, whereas the return of the comparator is calculated using global close prices.

Notes to the financial statements

For the financial period ended 31 October 2025

1. Basis of measurement

The financial statements presented are unaudited condensed interim financial statements for the financial period ended 31 October 2025 that have been prepared in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard 104 ("FRS 104") "Interim Financial Reporting".

The condensed interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the annual financial statements for the year ended 30 April 2025, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in Ireland, including FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland" and Irish statute, comprising the Unit Trust Act, 1990. As the Barings ASEAN Frontiers Fund, Barings Asia Growth Fund, Barings Australia Fund, Barings Europa Fund, Barings Hong Kong China Fund, Barings Global Bond Fund, Barings Global Balanced Fund and Barings Eastern Europe Fund (the "Funds") are registered for sale in Hong Kong, the Unit Trust has also been authorised by the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission ("SFC") pursuant to the provisions of the Hong Kong Code on Unit Trusts and Mutual Funds, supplemented or consolidated from time to time.

The accounting policies applied in these condensed interim financial statements are consistent with those used in the Barings International Umbrella Fund's (the "Unit Trust") most recent annual financial statements for the financial year ended 30 April 2025.

The condensed interim financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and financial liabilities held at fair value through profit or loss. The financial statements were prepared on a going concern basis.

The Unit Trust meets all the conditions set out in FRS 102, section 7 and consequently has availed of the exemption available to certain funds not to prepare a statement of cash flows.

The comparative figures included for the Statement of Financial Position relate to the previous financial year ended 30 April 2025, while the comparative figures included for the Statement of Comprehensive Income and Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Units relate to the six month period ended 31 October 2024.

2. Significant accounting policies

Fair value measurement

By fully adopting FRS 102, in accounting for its financial instruments, a reporting entity is required to apply either (a) the full requirements of FRS 102 relating to Basic Financial Instruments and Other Financial Instruments, b) the recognition and measurement provisions of IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and only the disclosure requirements of FRS 102 relating to Basic Financial Instruments and Other Financial Instruments, or c) the recognition and measurement provisions of IFRS 9 Financial Instruments and only the disclosure requirements of FRS 102 relating to Basic Financial Instruments and Other Financial Instruments. The Unit Trust has chosen to implement (b) the recognition and measurement provisions of IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and only the disclosure requirements of FRS 102 relating to Basic Financial Instruments and Other Financial Instruments.

The use of the IAS 39 recognition and measurement provisions is in line with the pricing policy, which outlines that the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities be valued at the last traded prices. The financial statements include all the trades received up until 12:00p.m. (Irish time) on 31 October 2025, the valuation point for the Unit Trust.

8. Fair value hierarchy

FRS 102 requires the Funds to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).
- Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Manager. The Manager considers observable data to be market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The following tables analyse, within the fair value hierarchy, the fund's financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value.

9. Efficient portfolio management

The Funds may use Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs") for efficient portfolio management. The efficient portfolio management purposes for which the Unit Trust intends to employ FDIs are reduction of risk, reduction of cost and the generation of additional capital or income for the relevant Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Fund and the general provisions of the UCITS Regulations. The Unit Trust may use various types of derivatives for these purposes, including, without limitation, forwards, futures, options, swaps (including but not limited to total return swaps, credit default swaps, and IRSs) and contracts for differences for these purposes.

Risk Monitoring of Global Exposure

The method used to determine the global exposure for Barings Global Bond Fund is Value at Risk ("VaR"). VaR is calculated daily using Risk Metrics.

Barings ASEAN Frontiers Fund, Barings Asia Growth Fund, Barings Australia Fund, Barings Europa Fund, Barings Hong Kong China Fund, Barings Global Balanced Fund, Barings Europe Select Fund, Barings German Growth Fund, Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund and Barings Eastern Europe Fund used the commitment approach to calculate their global exposure as described in detail in the risk management process of the Investment Manager.

In accordance with the UCITS Regulations the Commitment Approach has been calculated, in the case of Forward Currency Contracts ("FCCTs"), by converting the FCCT position into an equivalent position based on the market value of the underlying asset. As the Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDI") are used for hedging purposes, the exposure of the FDI has been calculated and then netted against the instrument being hedged. The Global Exposure calculation is performed on a daily basis.

In no circumstances will the global exposure of a Fund exceed 100% of its Net Asset Value.

For relative VaR: the Fund's VaR is shown as a percentage of the VaR of the performance comparator or reference portfolio to ensure that the relative figure is within an internal limit. This limit is set lower than a multiple of two (or 200%) of the performance comparison or reference portfolio VaR.

For absolute VaR: the Fund's VaR is shown as a percentage of the Funds' Net Asset Value and is monitored against an internal limit. This limit is set lower than 20%.

Fund Name	Fund Relative VaR over the period			Performance comparator or reference portfolio
	31 October 2025	31 October 2024	Lowest	Highest	Mean
Barings Global Bond Fund	105.39%	168.60%	92.54%	179.55%	117.65%	FTSE WGBI

Fund Name	Fund Absolute VaR over the period
	31 October 2025	31 October 2024	Lowest	Highest	Mean
Barings Global Bond Fund	4.55%	9.72%	4.07%	8.91%	6.10%
FTSE WGB	4.55%	5.76%	4.31%	5.69%	5.15%

Some limitations of VaR analysis are:

- the methodology is based on historical data and cannot take account of the fact that future market price movements, correlations between markets and levels of market liquidity in conditions of market stress may bear no relation to historical patterns; and
- the VaR is a point-in-time calculation, and does not necessarily reflect the risk position of the Funds at any time other than the date and time at which it is calculated.

15. Transactions with connected persons

The UCITS Regulations require that any transaction carried out with the Manager by a Promoter, Manager, Depositary, Investment Manager and/or associate of these ("connected persons") must be carried out as if negotiated at arm's length. Transactions must be in the best interests of the unitholders.

The Board of Directors of the Manager are satisfied that there are arrangements (evidenced by written procedures) in place to ensure that the obligations set out in Regulation 43(1) of the Central Bank UCITS Regulations are applied to all transactions with connected persons, and are satisfied that transactions with connected persons entered into during the period complied with the obligations set out in Regulation 43(1) of the Central Bank UCITS Regulations.

16. Taxation

Under current Irish law and practice, the Unit Trust qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended (the "TCA"). On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise if a "chargeable event" occurs. A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to unitholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation, transfer or deemed disposal of shares for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of holding shares in the Unit Trust for a period of eight years or more, or the appropriation or cancellation of shares of a unitholder by the Unit Trust for the purposes of meeting the amount of tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer.

No Irish tax will arise on the Unit Trust in respect of chargeable events due to:

(a) a unitholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes at the time of the chargeable event, provided that a relevant declaration is in place (in accordance with Schedule 2b of the TCA) and the Unit Trust is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is no longer materially correct; or

(b) a unitholder who is an exempt Irish investor (as defined in Section 739D TCA).

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Unit Trust may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Unit Trust or its unitholders.

The Finance Act 2010 provides that the Revenue Commissioners may grant approval for Unit Trust Investment Undertakings marketed outside of Ireland to make payments to non-resident investors without deduction of Irish tax where no relevant declaration is in place, subject to meeting "equivalent measures". A Unit Trust Investment Undertakings wishing to receive approval must apply in writing to the Revenue Commissioners, confirming compliance with the relevant conditions.

17. Bank facilities

There is a bank overdraft facility in place with The Northern Trust Company ("TNTC"). An "uncommitted" multi-currency loan facility has been made available by TNTC to the Funds. 18. Significant events

In light of recent developments in U.S. trade policy, including the Trump administration's partial rollback of reciprocal tariffs for certain trade partners and expanded exemptions for agricultural products, the Investment Manager continues to monitor global trade negotiations and geopolitical risks closely. While the overall tariff environment remains elevated, with effective rates at historic highs and ongoing legal challenges creating uncertainty, the Unit Trust has not observed any material impact on portfolio performance or investor activity to date. The Investment Manager remains vigilant and is actively evaluating the implications of these developments for portfolio positioning, risk management, and liquidity oversight.

There have been no other significant events to the financial period-end that, in the opinion of the Directors of the Manager, may have had an impact on the financial statements for the financial period ended 31 October 2025.

19. Subsequent events

There have been no events subsequent to the financial period-end that, in the opinion of the Directors of the Manager, may have had a material impact on these financial statements for the financial period ended 31 October 2025.

20. Russia/Ukraine conflict

In response to the Russian invasion of Ukraine, the EU, the U.S., the UK and other governmental entities have passed a variety of severe economic sanctions and export controls against Russia, including imposition of sanctions against Russia's Central Bank, largest financial institutions and certain individuals. In addition, a number of businesses have curtailed or suspended activities in Russia or dealings with Russian counterparts for reputational reasons. While current sanctions may not target the Funds, the Unit Trust, the AIFM or the Portfolio Investments and their issuers and industries in which the issuers of the Portfolio Investments operate, these sanctions have had and may continue to have the effect of causing significant economic disruption and may adversely impact the global economy generally, and the Russian economy specifically by, among other things, creating instability in the energy sectors, reducing trade as a result of economic sanctions and increased volatility and uncertainty in financial markets, including Russia's financial sector. Additionally, any new or expanded sanctions that may be imposed by the U.S., EU, UK, or other countries may materially adversely affect the AIFM's operations, including the Funds and the Portfolio Investments.

21. Approval of financial statements

The financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors of the Manager on 8 December 2025.

General information

For the financial period ended 31 October 2025

Market timing

Repeatedly purchasing and selling units in the Funds in response to short-term market fluctuations – known as ‘market timing’ – can disrupt Baring Asset Management Limited’s (the “Investment Manager”) investment strategy and increase the Funds’ expenses to the prejudice of all unitholders. The Funds are not intended for market timing or excessive trading. To deter these activities, the Directors of Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited (the “Manager”) may refuse to accept an application for units from persons that they reasonably believe are engaged in market timing or are otherwise excessive or potentially disruptive to the Funds.

The Directors of the Manager reserve the right to redeem units from a unitholder on the basis of the circumstances of the unitholder concerned, or if it has reasonable grounds to believe that the unitholder is engaging in any activity which might result in the Funds or their unitholders as a whole suffering any legal, regulatory, reputational or other material disadvantage which the Funds or their unitholders as a whole might not otherwise have suffered.

UK reporting fund status

UK taxable investors in UK reporting funds are subject to tax on their units of the UK reporting funds’ income attributable to their holdings in the Fund, whether or not distributed, while typically any gains on disposal of their holdings are subject to capital gains tax.

Details of the unit classes which currently have UK reporting fund status are available at the His Majesty’s Revenue and Customs (“HMRC”) Collective Investment Schemes Centre website:

<http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/cisc/offshore-funds.htm>.

As stated above UK tax payers should note that, for each unit class with reporting fund status, their share of any amounts of income, if any, that has not been distributed will be subject to tax.

Further details will be made available on the Barings website: www.baring.com.

Special risks resulting from tax publication requirements in Germany

Foreign investment companies (such as Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited (the “Manager”)) must provide documentation to the German fiscal authorities upon request, e.g. in order to verify the accuracy of the published tax information. The basis upon which such figures are calculated is open to interpretation and it cannot be guaranteed that the German fiscal authorities will accept the Manager’s calculation methodology in every material respect. In addition, if it transpires that these publications are incorrect, any subsequent correction will, as a general rule, not have retrospective effect and will, as a general rule, only take effect during the current year. Consequently, the correction may positively or negatively affect the investors who receive a distribution or an attribution of deemed income distributions in the current period.
