Dear Unitholder,

Re: Barings Korea Feeder Fund (the “Unit Trust”) – Change of Trustee of its Master Fund

As the Unit Trust invests solely in Barings Korea Trust (the “Korea Trust”), we are writing to you as a Unitholder of the Unit Trust to inform you that the current trustee, National Westminster Bank Plc (the “NatWest Plc”) of the Korea Trust will retire as the trustee and the NatWest Trustee and Depositary Services Limited (“NWTDS”) will be appointed as the new trustee of the Korea Trust with effect from 28 November 2018 (the “Effective Date”). The Korea Trust’s operations will not be impacted by this change.

The reason for the change of trustee for the Korea Trust is that following the financial crisis, the United Kingdom (“UK”) government has mandated a series of structural reforms to the banking sector as part of the Banking Reform Act (“ring-fencing” or “structural reform”). The ring-fencing legislation requires the separation of essential banking services from investment and complex wholesale banking activities by the end of 2018. The impacted parties (including the Royal Bank of Scotland (“RBS”)) had to develop plans for how they would comply with both the legislation and detailed rules from the UK regulators - Prudential Regulation Authority and Financial Conduct Authority (“FCA”).

In order to comply with the ring-fencing requirements RBS is changing its legal entity structure. NatWest Plc, the existing trustee of the Korea Trust, will become a ring-fenced bank and as such will not be permitted to deal in investments as principal and to act as a trustee of authorised unit trusts such as the Korea Trust. Existing and future customers and products that NatWest Plc will not be permitted to serve due to the ring-fencing legislation described above will be served from legal entities positioned outside of NatWest Plc. Thus, RBS has decided to move the trustee and depositary services business from NatWest Plc to a newly established UK entity NWTDS.

NWTDS is domiciled in the United Kingdom and has been approved by the FCA to act as the trustee of the Korea Trust.

NatWest Plc and NWTDS are RBS Group entities but will belong to different sub-groups post ring-fencing. NatWest Plc is owned by NatWest Holdings Limited, an intermediate holding company also known as the ring-fenced bank sub-group, and NWTDS is owned by the Royal Bank of Scotland International (Holdings) Limited which is positioned outside of the ring-fence. Both NatWest Holdings Limited and the Royal Bank of Scotland International (Holdings) Limited are subsidiaries of The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc.
